

Rachel is an approved speaker on the OCR recommendation list, please see below for feedback from communities:

“The feedback has been fantastic. We were so lucky to have Rachel for ShabbatUK 2017... She was a breath of fresh air. I do hope our paths cross again in the future.”

Rabbi Dr Moshe Freedman, New West End Synagogue

“Rachel was the highlight of our Shavuot event this year... She is witty, humorous and talks about her experiences in a down to earth and straightforward manner whilst conveying the challenges and importance of keeping to the Jewish faith in the world of comedy.”

Rabbi Michoel Rose, Cardiff United Synagogue

“Rachel’s tone was perfect for the audience of mixed ages and backgrounds, and her subject matter well chosen. Most importantly, her material was FUNNY. We would book her again in a heartbeat!”

Avi Gillis (Chairman), Mill Hill East Synagogue

“Rachel’s observances of daily life and Jewish life are at the same time both hilarious and thought-provoking. She engages her audience through her natural ability to use modern day examples to teach ancient texts and ideas.”

Rabbi Barry Lerer, Barnet United Synagogue

“We had Rachel join our community for ShabbatUK 2016. She was fantastic! Her talks and presentations were thought-provoking...Full of energy, humour, empathy, able to relate to different people on different religious levels.”

Rabbi Mordechai Wollenberg, Woodford Forest Synagogue

“Rachel is a fine performer - knowledgeable, worldly, witty, and confident with a wide range of stories. She kept a large room of varying ages fully engaged and entertained.”

David Korn (Chairman), Birmingham Central Synagogue
